CHAIRMAN'S INFORMATION REQUEST NO. 1

(Issued August 14, 2015)

To clarify Proposal Five¹, which concerns the development of attributable costs for the International Money Transfer Service (IMTS)—Outbound and Inbound products, the Postal Service is requested to provide a written response to the following questions. If not confirmed, please identify the origin or source and provide the FY 2014 transaction volume from the referenced Federal Reserve Bank report.
2. The following requests concern the proxy proposed by the Postal Service to estimate the transaction volume for the IMTS—Inbound product. In Docket No. ACR2014, the Postal Service stated that the Federal Reserve Bank report lists both the dollar value of commissions paid by foreign postal operators to the Postal Service, as well as the number of money orders issued by foreign postal operators cashed at Postal Service retail windows for which a commission was paid by such foreign postal operators.³ However, in Docket No. ACR2013, the Postal Service indicates that the Federal Reserve Bank report includes information on all money orders issued by foreign postal operators that are collected from individual Post Office daily deposits (i.e., the foreign-origin money orders cashed at retail windows) and from other financial institutions that cashed international money orders.⁴

Postal Service by foreign postal operators. If not confirmed, please explain. If confirmed, provide the number of money orders issued by foreign postal operators cashed by the Postal Service in FY 2014 for which no commission was paid.

3. The following request concerns the proxy proposed by the Postal Service to estimate the transaction volume for the IMTS—Inbound product. In Docket No. ACR2013, the Postal Service stated that the Federal Reserve Bank physically forwards money orders issued by foreign postal operators to a designated Postal Service accounting office. The forwarded money orders include those that are cashed and collected from individual post office daily deposits and from other financial institutions. The accounting office processes and manually enters the information from these money orders into a Postal Service data system for use in settlement with the originating foreign postal operators. Responses to CHIR No. 5. For FY 2014, please provide an electronic database containing data on each cashed money order issued by foreign postal operators that was manually entered into the Postal Service data system.

By the Acting Chairman.
